

Unit 3: Colour Fun

Hobo, the toy dragon, introduces children to the language of colours through his magical story, "Hobo's Magic Paint Brush." Children will be delighted when he suddenly starts to change colour. Who has his magic paint brush?

Each of the learning objects in the unit use the words contained in the table below. Children will see, hear and use colour words through a series of interactive activities that become more challenging as they become more confident. They will have multiple opportunities to learn the names of colours and can even make new colours with the colour machine.

Objectives

- Identify and name primary and secondary colours.
- Identify which primary colours make a secondary colour.
- To develop notion of same and different patterns.
- Enable development of computer skills such as mouse control, drag and drop, selecting icons, navigating between objects and using drawing tools.
- Develop and extend written and spoken vocabulary of words associated with colours.
